FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1882.

A recruiting officer of the United States army is now located at Avi-land Ky.

Three thousand people fled from Brunswick, Ga., in one night, on account of the yellow fever.

Thousands of men have been put to work in Pittsburg by the re-sumption of the iron works. Other large concerns are also resuming operations in various parts of the country.

World's Fair officials estimate that the daily receipts from all sources now average $80,000. The operating expenses are in the neighborhood of $15,000 daily, and the net revenue of $65,000 is expected by the directors to enable them to clear up all bonded and floating indebtedness by the close of the Fair.

Consul General Mason, of Frankfort, Germany, has made a report to the State Department, in which he says that under the new tariff not only will Germany cease to draw from Russia the supplies of rye and petroleum, every year amounting to many millions of dollars, but, owing to the drought, will have a serious deficit this year in her own home crop of grain, which will call for a very large importation of breadstuffs from the United States.

Notwithstanding the fact that Pension Commissioner Lochren has turned the light on the pension frauds and is enforcing the pension laws without fear or favor, the number of pensions granted per day averages as many as when the Republicans had control of the Pension Office. The only difference is there is no favoritism. All the old soldiers get a fair share for their white armband, and the pension sharks no longer run the Pension Office—Courier-Journal.

In a very able speech on finance last Saturday Congressman McCrory, of Kentucky, declared that the United States could not afford to adopt a free coinage policy at present, as no country could alone maintain such a policy without coming to a single silver basis, which would send all of our $60,000,000 of gold to Europe. He thought, would help to bring about an international agreement for bimetallism, which was the only path to the free coinage of silver.

The meeting of the Monetary Conference, of which he was a member, he said, had been postponed from May until November in order to allow the policy of bimetallism to grow in England. His views are considered very important from the fact that he is a member of the International Monetary Conference, and understands the situation as regards our foreign relations.

In the committee assignments in the lower House of Congress Kentucky gets three Chairmanships: McCrory, Foreign Affairs; Ellis, Revision of the Laws, and Montgomery, Expenditures in the War Department. In addition to this, Montgomery is on the Ways and Means; Breckinridge, second on Appropriations; Stone, second on War Claims and Ceasefire; Payne, third on Elections, and on Expenditures in the State Department; Gouinot, on the Judiciary; Ellis, on Banking and Currency; Caruth, on Pacific Railroads and Foreign and Interstate Commerce; Berry on Public Buildings and Grounds and Merchant Marine and Fisheries; List on Pensions and Irrigation of Arid Lands; Adams, on Militia. The State has a representative on each of the four most important committees in the House—Ways and Means, Appropriations, Foreign Affairs and Judiciary.

West Point cadets are in camp at the grounds and to the various Midway exhibitions until he sees a motherly looking woman enter. He gets up close to her as she passes the gate, then he stops and appears to be looking around until the lady gets some distance away. He then claims that the lady is his mother and that he is under 7 years of age. Rather than get the boy lost from his mother he gives him in. Johnny says he has been doing the fine arts lately and that he has worked the Indiana and Illinois Central trains by means of a ticket which he had attached to a rubber fastened up his sleeve. He would hold this over the slot and let go of it when the rubber would draw it up his sleeve again.

The Ferris wheel is the greatest financial success on the grounds. It is raking money right along every day. The big wheel will be removed to Coney Island after the fair.

In these mountains there might be raised an abundance of fruit every year. In Knott county there are peach orchards loaded with fruit. These are placed high up in the coves near the summit of the mountains. Why not locate an orchard in this way and get rich returns from our planting. Apple trees located thus would bear an annual harvest of delicious fruit.

Plant the orchard where the snow melted last is a sky. The buds come out late, and if located high the frost will not destroy the fruit.

Fording the River.

J. A. Mathews, a salesman for Jean A. Jones, the organ man of Huntington, has been coming up in this section for some time, and the hate between Louis and Cynthiana has usually cost him one dollar or less; but as his trip this week was his farewell he paid the round sum of six dollars for transportation to Cynthiana.

He recently sold an organ to Mrs. J. S. Johns, two miles above here, and has been boarding there occasionally. He preached Mormonism to Mrs. Johns and talked to her in such a way that she felt called upon to tell her husband. This she did and when Mathews returned to the Johns residence Wednesday evening he met with a warm reception. He looks likely to retreat down the river to the west of several pistol shots, and if his fiery gait till he landed in the West Virginia shore.

Okey Vaughn was highly entertained Tuesday afternoon.

The party given by Tannie Wellman was quite an enjoyable affair, at least Ida Holt says so.

A Killing in Floyd County.

On last Saturday evening in Floyd county, near McDowell post-office, on Beaver, Wm. Jones (son of the notorious Clabe Jones) and Henry Bentely went to the residence of old man Morgan Turner, one of the best citizens of the county, about dark. They found him and his wife and a servant girl sitting on the porch. They approached slowly and suddenly grabbed the old man, at the same time shooting to the women that ten companions were coming and that they would better run for their lives, which they did. While Jones searched the old man's clothes Bentely was firing into the house. Jones found about nine dollars on Turner's person and to make him tell more money was he placed a rope around his neck. As the two men were drawing him up a young man named Martin (son of Judge Martin) who was living with Turner, appeared on the scene with a Winchester rifle and shot Jones through the body, killing him. Bentely was given three slight wounds, which he carried away hurriedly. He has not been captured. There is a reward of $125 for him. He is thought to have gone to Elliott county.

The Roads.

The Commissioners were in session Monday and the roads question was again the leading topic. The only action taken was to order Judge W. H. Rice to open the road surveyed around by way of Lick creek with the hands living above Franklin street; and Frank Jones was ordered to utilize on the hill road the labor between Franklin and Main streets.

The court met again yesterday and an effort was made to have an order issued for the expenditure of $5,000, to be paid in county orders which would be received in payment of taxes. The object was to enable poor people to pay their taxes in work. After a considerable argument the court decided that the plan proposed was not feasible. The question of issuing bonds was also discussed, but the only action taken was to direct the County Attorney to ascertain what can be done toward negotiating such bonds.
